Dear Valued Client,

Assay Technology, Inc. has entered into an agreement to acquire the business assets of Sensors Safety Products related to air samplers and analysis.

Employees of the two companies will combine forces, as employees at Sensors' Raleigh, NC facility will become employee-owners of Assay Technology. Sensors Safety products will be provided initially. Within 2 months, most orders placed with the Raleigh facility will be fulfilled with Assay Technology personal monitoring badges at similar pricing. Lab analysis of samplers may be performed at Raleigh, NC, at Boardman, OH, or at Livermore, CA – all are AIHA-accredited laboratories operated by Assay Technology.

Please continue to contact Sensors Safety by telephone, email, and website, so that you may communicate and place orders in the way you are accustomed. As changes occur, we will make things as clear and seamless as possible for clients.

We look forward to serving your future needs for air sampling and analysis with the most cost-effective and convenient products and services. To learn more about Assay Technology Inc please visit www.assaytech.com.

Please contact us whenever we can be of service in any way.

Sincerely,
